What Did You Expect? | Paul Tripp You need changed expectations, you need radical commitments, and, most importantly, you need grace. Available Products NOTE: The 10-session conference is not designed to accompany the book. sentence structure - What did you say / said? - English ... What did you say? The simple reason for this is that when you form a question like this in English, you use an auxiliary verb, in this case "do". When the question is in the past tense, you conjugate the auxiliary verb, but the main verb is just the bare infinitive, "say", and never changes. Did you use to or used to? | Jordan McCollum Just like you wouldn't say "I did/didn't went to the store." I don't think you should say "I did/didn't used to go to the store." And of course, in very formal writing, you should never have used either ðŸˆ%.

Uses of "have you had" and "did you have" - Stack Exchange I would say the key difference between "Have you (done X)" and "Did you (do X)" is the timeframe. I believe have refers to a continuous past and asks if something has happened since a particular time. While did specifies a particular time and asks if it happened then. When you don't specify the time, have defaults to either ever or recently. Since almost everyone has had lunch at least once in their life, we assume the more useful question of whether they've had it today. did you know? - Improving your knowledge daily with ...
